As an industry, we work together to provide strong benefits to the people and places of Aotearoa New Zealand. We strive to enhance our natural environment and enrich our communities, while delivering economic prosperity and providing quality experiences that delight our visitors.

The Tourism Sustainability Commitment is a programme to enable individual tourism businesses to contribute to our vision. It sets out practical actions to enable all businesses to play their part. Together we can create a world-leading and truly sustainable tourism industry.

The Tourism Sustainability Commitment was launched in 2017 with strong backing from New Zealand’s tourism industry. Within two years, it was supported by more than 1400 businesses. Refreshed in 2020, the TSC is firmly established as the programme for all New Zealand tourism businesses to use in order to achieve sustainability. To be sustainable as an industry, all businesses must be individually sustainable.

Our ambition is to move beyond sustaining, to restoring, to regenerating. Tourism has tremendous capacity to improve our nature, reduce our footprint and enrich communities, and collectively we must strive to achieve this.

Tourism isn’t an island. It contributes to our national and international way of life, supports communities and gives back to nature. Through the Tourism Sustainability Commitment, we are reinforcing these connections and providing a programme for the tourism industry to use to ensure its prosperity over the long term.

What’s involved

The most important word in the TSC is commitment. TSC supporters commit to:

- Having a sustainability plan with goals for all 12 Commitments
- Making measurable progress towards the goals
- Embedding sustainability into business systems, processes and plans
- Providing an annual update on progress
- Telling communities and visitors about our sustainability efforts.

About the Tourism Sustainability Commitment

The TSC was launched in 2017 with strong backing from New Zealand’s tourism industry. Within two years, it was supported by more than 1400 businesses. Refreshed in 2020, the TSC is firmly established as the programme for all New Zealand tourism businesses to use in order to achieve sustainability. To be sustainable as an industry, all businesses must be individually sustainable.

The programme is focused on supporting the industry to be restorative or regenerative in its interactions with both nature and communities. This means we are moving from minimising harm to making a positive contribution. The TSC has the ambitious goal to ensure tourism gives back more than it takes.

Contributing to national and global goals

The United Nations Sustainable Development Goals provided the starting point for the TSC which evolved to meet the characteristics of New Zealand’s tourism industry.

The TSC is also aligned with the New Zealand Treasury Living Standards Framework. This represents the Government’s perspective on what matters for New Zealanders now and into the future.

The TSC supports both the New Zealand tourism industry’s Tourism 2025 & Beyond Sustainable Growth Framework / Kaupapa Whakapakari Tāpoi and the Government’s New Zealand-Aotearoa Government Tourism Strategy / Te puāwai tonu o Aotearoa i te tupu tonu o te ao tāpoi.
